$25,000 DAMAGES

Asked By Mrs. Mary Belle Thackston
Of Higginsport for Injuries Received by Her When Run Over
By a Street Car.

Suit was instituted in the Mason Circuit Court yesterday morning by Mrs. Mary Belle Thackston against the Maysville Street and Railway Co., for injuries sustained by her when run over by a street car. She asks for $25,000 damages. Attorney M. J. Hennessy of August represents the plaintiff.

In her petition Mrs. Thackston states that she rang the bell for the car to stop, and that it slackened speed at a point east of Walnut street. She arose to descend from the car when suddenly started again, she losing her balance. Her foot lodged on the edge of the excavation made by the Street Car Company and this causing in caused her foot and leg to be drawn under the car. The other leg and foot were also drawn under the wheels of the car causing them both to be terribly mashed and injured so much that it was necessary to amputate the left leg above the knee and part of the right foot.

She states that the defendant through carelessness caused the street to remain in defective and dangerous condition and that the condition of the street was not obvious to one alighting from the car on account of the running board covering it.

She asks for $25,000 damages and all proper relief.

Mr. Thomas Hise left yesterday on a short business trip to Lexington.

EMPLOYEES JUBILANT

Over Near Success—Final Action in Strike Situation Delayed by Objections to Tentative Plans—Question Proposed Freight Increase.

Washington, August 24—Objections which developed tonight at a meeting of railroad presidents and managers to points in the tentative plan evolved by the committee of eight presidents considering ways to avoid the threatened general strike resulted in a future postponement of final action. The conference adjourned to meet again tomorrow, and as one president phrased it, the situation is such that "it may be settled in twenty minutes or the matter may go over until next week."

A statement issued by the railroad executives tonight summed it up this way:

"At the invitation of President Wilson, Mr. Hale Holden, Judge R. S. Lovett and Daniel Willard went to the White House at noon and held a short conference with the President.

Committee Continues Work
"A conference of the railroad executives was held at 3 o'clock and a new phase of the situation of some importance was laid before the conference by the special committee.

"After considerable discussion without definite action an adjournment was taken until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. In the meantime the special committee.

The special committee's plan, drafted after a week's consideration, would provide for granting an eight-hour basic day to the trainmen, but with assurance that every effort would be made by the administration to secure a freight rate increase to recompense the roads, and further assurance that Congress would be asked to enact legislation to insure settlement of future labor disputes through an investigating commission.

DISTRICT SANATORIUM

Seems to Be a Go—Proposed Site Near Ft. Perry Below Covington—Can Be Purchased for $12,500.

At the Seventh District Tuberculosis Sanatorium Meeting held in Covington Saturday, plans were made for the building of a large sanatorium below Covington if the State Legislature will pass a law providing for the ownership interest by the counties in the site and building to be used for sanatorium purposes.

The delegates late Wednesday afternoon visited Ft. Perry in Kenton county, where the county has an option on 97 acres of land. The site can be purchased for $12,500. It is a beautiful spot being 500 feet above the Ohio River and overlooking all of Ft. Thomas, Cincinnati, Newport and Covington. Trenches used by the Union soldiers to stage off the invasion of General Kirby Smith during the civil war run through the land. County Judge Rice of this county, who was one of the delegates, reports that it was one of the most beautiful places he had ever visited. This is the site that may be chosen.

The resolutions committee of the meeting presented a report promising united support in securing appropriations to maintain the sanatorium. They offered resolutions providing for the selection of three delegates from each county to secure appropriations from the various counties and to assist the Kenton county board in preliminary work of selecting the site for the sanatorium.

It is to be hoped that the sanatorium can be built by the united efforts of the thirteen counties comprising this district. Mason county is willing and ready to do her share, but though the sanatorium will not be built for some time, when the time comes we will be ready.

SUES CITY

In the Mason Circuit Court yesterday W. Cobb filed suit against the City of Maysville for $3000 for damages sustained through the negligence of the city employees. He claims that while riding over the bridge in the road just east of Carmel street the bridge gave away with his horse, throwing the plaintiff to the ground and injuring him. He claims that the bridge is in the city limits and it was due to the negligence of the city employees that the bridge was not kept in proper repair. Attorney J. M. Collins represents the plaintiff.

His many friends here will regret to hear of his passing away.

Files Suit Against L. M. Cavendish for Loss of His Automobile in the King Garage Fire in the Early Part of May.

Suit for the loss of his automobile in the King Garage fire in the early part of May was filed in the Mason Circuit Court yesterday by Dr. W. C. Crowell against L. M. Cavendish. Attorney J. M. Collins represents the plaintiff.

The petition states that the plaintiff purchased a Studebaker touring car from Mr. Cavendish and that at the time of the purchase the defendant represented the machine to him as being a good, serviceable car, and that all of its parts were of good material and were properly constructed and would perform their various functions in a proper manner; but, that said machine was defective and its various parts would not run and could not be operated without great trouble.

The plaintiff on the 14 day of May at the request of the defendant delivered his machine into his possession with the understanding that the defendant would repair or replace the various parts of the car that were defective and would not work properly. He states that the defendant agreed and promised to deliver the machine back to him within a certain time, but that on the 15 day of May while it was in his possession, it was destroyed by fire and that since the defendant has not accounted to plaintiff for said machine or its value. He asks for $845 and all proper relief.

THE MEXICAN BUNCOMBE

The Administration at Washington announces today a new "peace treaty" with the Administration at Mexico City. Officially it is heralded as "an arrangement for an adjustment of the differences between the United States and Mexico through the offices of an international joint commission." Textually it is another effusive note from the Wilson Secretary of State to the Carranza Secretary of State accepting, upon Carranza's own terms, his proposal to entrust to a commission of three Mexicans and three Americans the drafting of "a protocol or agreement definitely to settle the difficulties now pending or those which may arise between the two countries." Those difficulties are defined and specified as concerning exclusively "the reciprocal crossing of the frontier by the forces of both countries, also to determine the origin of the incursions to date," in order to fix the responsibility therefor. The reply is sent forward in the same spirit of frank cordiality in which Carranza was addressed the Wilson Administration, and the Wilson Secretary of State offers to the Carranza Secretary of State in conclusion "the assurances" of his "highest consideration." The decisions of the commission are made dependent upon their acceptance by both Governments.

All of which is merely more Mexican buncombe. Woodrow Wilson and Menustiano Carranza are companions in political purpose. Both are struggling to remain in office. The one is dependent for his power upon the people of the United States, and the other upon the bandits of Mexico. Out of their mutual emergency they have hit upon a scheme with which to deceive their respective constituents and if possible divert attention from their respective failures until after election day. The scheme is foredoomed to failure for two reasons: (1) Woodrow Wilson slanderously misrepresents the spirit of America in abandoning the American soldiers and sailors whose blood has been poured out upon Mexican soil from Vera Cruz to Carrizal and the pioneering American citizens whose bones are scattered from one end of Mexico to the other. (2) Menustiano Carranza stupidly misrepresents his own situation when he pretends to be the executive head of the Mexican republic. He is not even the acknowledged head of all the Mexican bandits.

One thing, however, this shameful sham should settle, the political future of Mr. Wilson. Once again he makes Mexico an issue that Mr. Hughes will not dodge or the nation longer ignore. Once again his fatuous course confronts the country with the question—Is America a nation or only "an aggregation of old women of both sexes?"—Boston Evening Transcript.

TARIFF AND A TAX

The Democrats are boasting of the tremendous revenue producing powers of the "Underwood Tariff law." What they really mean is the revenue producing powers of the "Underwood tax law."

The Underwood bill turned more than $777,000,000 into the Treasury last year. Of this sum, however, the "Underwood tariff" produced only $211,000,000—or a little more than one-fourth.

The balance was derived from the income tax, from the iniquitous and profanity-breeding stamp taxes, from the so-called "war taxes,"—which have been levied with the approval of a President who "kept us out of war"—from the excise taxes levied upon corporations, from the taxes upon theaters, upon soaps, upon toilet articles, upon everything, in short, which the ingenuity of an Alabama statesman could devise, provided only that the articles and industries taxed should be so placed that the North and not the South should bear the principal burden.

The Underwood "tariff" has not produced revenue. It has opened our markets to the foreigner. It has made it more difficult for Americans to do business.

The Underwood "Tax law," on the other hand, has produced an abundance of money. There is a great difference between a "tariff" and a "tax." The "tariff" is paid by the foreigner who wants to sell us his goods. The "tax" is paid by our own people, directly and in cash.

The late Allen G. Thurman used to shout "A tariff is a tax." He convinced nobody. But Mr. Underwood has demonstrated that his "tariff" is in very truth a "tax."

ONLY ONE CONCLUSION

The laboring men of the country learned in 1913-14, before the war began, that reduction of tariff duties did not reduce the cost of living. Several millions lost their jobs or went on part time. From their point of view, therefore, they couldn't have been any worse off if the protective tariff had continued. They were considerably worse off with it reduced. Now that the war has brought another era of prosperity and they have work and good wages, they cannot be convinced that it is the Underwood tariff which has brought about such conclusion for them to reach as to their interest in the tariff question.—Doylestown (Pa.) Intelligencer.

Raymond Robins, of Illinois, one of the members of the Progressive National Committee who resisted the endorsement of Hughes says that he intends to support Wilson. Mr. Robins is merely going back to his old party. The progressives of 1912 were not all former Republicans—though the bulk of them were. If they now resume their former parties it will be far more than enough to defeat Wilson.

Clean, able and experienced, Mr. Hughes is a sound exponent of true Americanism, who believes thoroughly in the protection of American interests, whether it be industry at home or the honor and welfare of the national and its citizens abroad.

NEW YORK LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent)

$245,000,000 More Deficit—That the Wilson administration is seeking to suppress the fact that the deficit for this fiscal year will be $245,000,000 larger than has ever been explained to Congress or to the public is the conviction of those who have been studying the situation in the light of Secretary McAdoo's own statements. Some time ago, before the preparedness bills were framed and before the second invasion of Mexico, Mr. McAdoo went before the Ways and Means committee and stated that, allowing $100,000,000 for the increase of the preparedness appropriations, it would be necessary to raise by special taxes $150,000,000. The preparedness bills have now been framed and they exceed those of last year by $394,000,000 in round numbers $400,000,000. This includes the $41,000,000 deficiency appropriation for the Mexican militia mobilization, etc. Adding the $300,000,000 excess over the McAdoo preparedness estimate to the $150,000,000 deficit on which McAdoo then counted, the total amounts to $450,000,000. The special taxes imposed in the pending revenue bill are to raise $205,000,000. But where is the remaining $245,000,000 to come from? Not from the proposed $130,000,000 bond sale, because the administration clearly explains that that sum is solely to cover the expenses of the Mexican affair up to January 1. It adds, moreover, that if the militia is kept on the border until June 30, next, an additional $85,000,000 will be needed. But there has been no explanation of how the administration purposes to make good this deficit of $245,000,000, and the only possible conclusion is that, after the election is over that amount will be borrowed, by another sale of bonds, making the bond sales of the Wilson administration $375,000,000 instead of $130,000,000, the voters being kept in ignorance of this fact until after the election. Either there must be an additional bond sale to raise the $245,000,000, or extraordinarily burdensome taxes must be imposed or, and that is hardly conceivable, the now widely advertised preparedness program is to be held up immediately after election for lack of funds.

Wilson Versus Underwood—President Wilson, writing to S. M. Hastings, of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association on July 9, said, in part, "It ought to be possible by such means (the Tariff Commission created by the Kitchen bill) to make the question of duties merely a question of progress and development, a question of adapting means to ends, of facilitating and helping business and employing to the utmost the resources of the country in a vast development of our business resources." When this statement was read on the floor of the House, Rep. Kitchen emphatically denied that it could have been written by the President, and denounced it as straight Republican, protection argument, but when shown the President's signature, by Rep. Longworth, Mr. Kitchen had nothing further to say. Rep. Underwood, the author of the Democratic tariff bill, regards the proposed tariff board as purely a piece of protection machinery and has informed the Democratic caucus that he purposes vigorously to oppose its creation. He realizes that the only possible reason for having a tariff board is in order that it may determine the difference between the cost of production here and abroad, as a guide to Congress, that it may fix duties to equal that difference. As the Democratic party is opposed to protection, he can perceive no reason for the creation of a tariff board, unless it be simply a piece of political chicanery, designed to steal a Republican issue, and Mr. Underwood is too straightforward to stand for that kind of politics. He believes in standing on the Democratic platform which four years ago declared it to be "a fundamental principle of the Democratic party that the Federal Government, under the Constitution, has no right or power to impose or collect tariff duties except for the purpose of revenue," which this year reaffirms its belief in a tariff for revenue only.

Daniels Still Faking—Secretary Daniels' "proud boast" that the naval bill just passed provides for the greatest increase of the navy made in any administration, and his obvious effort to create political capital thereby is highly interesting when the facts of the Wilson-Daniels administration are recalled. More than four months after the great European war had started, Daniels, after consultation with President Wilson, tossed aside the recommendation of the Navy General Board and recommended to Congress the absurdly inadequate program of two dreadnaughts, six destroyers and eight or more submarines, one of them to be of seagoing type. A year later, Daniels recommended a continuous program of two dreadnaughts and two

DETROIT'S IMPRESSIONS OF A MAN.

Governor Hughes' visit to Detroit opened the presidential campaign of 1916 and if we may forecast the events that are to follow by the omens of Monday we would prognosticate an intensely warm, vivid and humanly interesting period in the next few months.

Setting aside the auspices of meteorological conditions in this provision of the future—although they are approved by numerous professional augurs and by a host of commonality as well—we base this prophecy on the characteristics of the candidate whose too brief stay with us has been enjoyed by all with whom he came into contact.

The misguided individuals who have been expecting Charles E. Hughes would prove to be a cold proposition and therefore easy to beat are in for a shock that will make them think they have been hit by an uninsulated trolley wire. There is nothing cold about Mr. Hughes, Detroit has learned. He is about as intensely human a piece of humanity as ever captured the hearts of a crowd, and the more people in the United States he meets between now and November the more votes will be cast for him. As a campaigner he is a revelation. He likes his fellow beings, and they like him because they see he likes them.

And what his personality begins his remarkable powers of intellect and utterance finish. He drives his points home with tremendous force. What he says sticks. There are thousands of Americans today who can retell every step in the arguments he made eight years ago on the Bryan trust policy, yet in 1908 Mr. Hughes was not especially a prominent figure and there was no particular reason why his address more than others should have remained clearly in the memory except the gift of the man to send his own thoughts so deep into the brains of others. They are clear in his own mind first, undoubtedly. He knows precisely what he wants to say because he has reasoned it out before he speaks it out. Probably that has something to do with the ease with which he conveys his meaning. But it is a very rare quality he possesses in his ability to master subjects so thoroughly as to make the most abstruse simple to himself and his hearers. It is a quality eminently desirable in a political candidate; it is infinitely more to be desired in the president of a great country like the United States.

Detroit's impression of Charles E. Hughes is all favorable. The thousands of people who have studied him at close range are convinced that if he is elected president next November he will be a great president, one of the greatest this nation has known, worthy to stand in history with George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, a custodian of the republic's fate to whom that fate may confidently be entrusted. If that conviction is shared by the people of other states whom he is still to meet, the outcome of his swing around the great American circle cannot fail to be propitious for him.—Detroit Free Press.

battle cruisers in 1917, two battleships in 1918 and two battleships and one cruiser in 1919. And this recommendation was made only after a storm of popular indignation had swept over the country. Credit for the extensive program which has been adopted does not belong to Woodrow Wilson or Josephus Daniels, but to the American people, who have made known their disgust with the Wilson-Daniels peanut naval policy in no uncertain tone, and have actually made their wishes regarding the navy felt through their representatives in the two houses of Congress. It is noteworthy, moreover, that even at this late date many Democrats in the House voted against the present program—which provides for ten battleships and six battlecruisers in three years, the keels of four battleships and four battlecruisers to be laid at once—provided Mr. McAdoo's juggling of Treasury funds does not prevent—and Rep. Kitchen, Democratic leader of the House pathetically explained that in fighting for a little navy he had been carrying put the orders of President Wilson and Secretary Daniels, charging them with having "betrayed" the Little Navy men.

Tariff Still Charming—Reports from the west indicate that whenever Gov. Hughes touches upon the tariff and states the Republican position his remarks are most enthusiastically received. This confirms the view of the Republican managers that a majority of just about 1,500,000 of the voters in this country believe in a protective tariff. In 1912, it is recalled, the combined Republican and Progressive vote exceeded that received by President Wilson by upwards of 1,300,000. In that election there were some Democrats who voted the Progressive ticket, and many Republicans who, being opposed to Roosevelt and feeling Taft could not win, voted for Wilson. But taking it all in all, the estimate of a million and a half majority of protectionists is doubtless correct. Assuming this to be true, and knowing the unequivocal and unswerving advocacy of protection for American workmen by the Republican party, the Republican managers figure that every Democratic or unidentified voter who is won by an exposure of Democratic incompetence, Mr. Wilson's weak, vacillating foreign policy, his needless invasion of Mexico, and son on, means an addition to those who will naturally vote for Hughes on the square-toed issue of protection. Furthermore, they find considerable measure of confirmation of their view in the spectacular efforts of the Democratic to preempt a small corner on the protection bandwagon. Mr. Wilson's eleventh hour conversion to the creation of a tariff board, etc. In due time, the Republican orators will make a drive on the tariff, accompanying their arguments with analyses of the Underwood tariff bill and its effects which, they assert, will pretty nearly blow their Democratic adversaries out of the water.

ADEQUATE NATIONAL DEFENSE DEMANDED

We demand adequate national defense; adequate protection on both our Western and Eastern coasts. We demand thoroughness and efficiency in both arms of the service. It seems to be plain that our regular army is too small. We are too great a country to require of our citizens who are engaged in peaceful vocations the sort of military service to which they are now called. As well insist that our citizens in this metropolis be summoned to put out fires and police the streets. We do not count it inconsistent with our liberties, or with our democratic ideals, to have an adequate police force. With a population of nearly one hundred millions we need to be surer of ourselves than to become alarmed at the prospect of having a regular army which can reasonably protect our border, and perform such other military service as may be required, in the absence of a grave emergency. I believe, further, that there should be not only a reasonable increase in the regular army, but that the first citizen reserve subject to call should be enlisted as a Federal army and trained under Federal authority.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

MR. HUGHES OPPOSED TO FOOLISH GOVERNMENT.

"I have no respect for the idea that because democratic government is a government of the people, by the people and for the people it is a government of the foolish, for the foolish and by the foolish."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

WAREHOUSES MERGED

Paris, Ky., August 23.—A deal was consummated here today whereby the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Company and the Paris Tobacco Warehouse, of this city, were merged into one $100,000 corporation. The stock of the former company was taken at $55,000, and that of the latter at $45,000. Edward Burke will be President and John T. Collins manager of the new corporation.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HUGHES' ADDRESS IN CHICAGO

"As I was one hundred per cent. judge I became one hundred per cent. candidate."

"The most serious charge against the present administration is putting incompetent men into important positions."

"I propose that when a man goes to represent the American people he shall be looked upon with respect and esteem."

"Nobody has the right to pay political debts with the good name and the honor of the United States."

"I propose to have no more 'kiss me and I'll kiss you' appropriations in Congress."

VILLA FLEEING; PRESTIGE GONE—REBEL MAKING WAY SOUTH WITH FEW FOLLOWERS, PERSHING REPORTS

Washington, August 23.—In a telegram to the War Department today Brigadier General Pershing reported that Francisco Villa when last heard from was making his way south into Durango with a small following, and that the opinion was general that his prestige was gone and that he never again could become a serious factor in Mexican affairs. General Pershing said that until recently Villa had been secluded in the mountains of Southern Chihuahua, where he was driven last April by American troops.

The dispatch, sent from expeditionary headquarters at Colonia Rubian, follows:

"My last message regarding Villa at Parra is now reported incorrect. Villa had only small following. He avoided Parra and places occupied by Carranza troops. He was making his way south into Durango. Probably now hiding in mountains. 'Until recently Villa has been hiding since being driven to mountains of Southern Chihuahua by our troops last April. His late attempt to obtain following reported as almost total failure. Opinion seems general that Villa's prestige is gone, and that he can never again become serious factor in Mexican affairs.'"

Army officers here were inclined to regard the report of Villa's loss of prestige as most important, and likely to have a bearing on the question of withdrawal of American forces in Mexico.

EXCESSIVE HEAT FORCES CATHOLICS TO ADJOURN

New York, August 23.—The annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies adjourned today, twenty-four hours sooner than had been planned originally. The excessive heat was the cause for shortening the sessions. John Whalen, of New York, the president, and all other officers were re-elected except Joseph T. Brennan, of Boston, sixth vice president, who was succeeded by Dr. Peter S. Ganz, of Louisville. The convention will meet in Kansas City, Mo., next year.

The final session was enlivened by an unexpected exchange of opinions concerning the non-Catholic attitude toward Catholics. Col. Patrick Henry Callahan, of Louisville, declared that the five-sixths non-Catholic portion of the citizens of the county are fair in the treatment of the Catholic sixth.

PRESIDENT CRITICIZED BY CATHOLIC SOCIETY

New York, August 23.—President Wilson was criticized tonight in a resolution passed at the closing session here of the German Roman Catholic Central Verein for having "preferred charge in his message to Congress against a part of our citizenship, who heretofore enjoyed the proud distinction of unquestioned loyalty and patriotism." Action on the resolution was taken only after there had been a heated debate on the question of the propriety of a religious organization "entering into the political field."

The resolution, presented by a committee headed by Joseph Matt, of St. Paul, Minn., was as follows: "Without precedent in the history of our country, we find the President of the United States publicly—in his official message—preferring charges against a part of our citizenship, who heretofore enjoyed the proud distinction of unquestioned loyalty and patriotism."

"We regret this utterance and deplore its effects, especially in view of its general character, as such utterances coming from such high sources are calculated to foster unfounded suspicion and mistrust of a large element of our American people and imperil the consummation of a program of social efficiency in our country."

DEUTSCHLAND'S ARRIVAL REPORTED FROM BERLIN

Berlin, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y., August 23.—The merchant submarine Deutschland arrived at the mouth of the Weser, August 23, according to the Overseas News Agency. The agency says that the Deutschland arrived in the afternoon and anchored before the mouth of the river. All on board were well.

The Deutschland arrived at Baltimore from Bremen July 9 with a cargo of mail and dyestuff. She was designed to defy the British blockade.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Maysville Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. Della Luneford, 328 E. Front street, Maysville, says: "I think kidney trouble came from a strain in my case. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I hadn't caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. It finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy. My feet began to swell and at times my hands were the same way. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

A PERMANENT CURE OVER THREE YEARS LATER. Mrs. Luneford said: "Doan's Kidney Pills have completely and permanently cured me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Luneford has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn, Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WE WANT THE AMERICAN FLAG UNSULLIED.

"Now, my friends, we want not only American efficiency in business, in efficiency in the organization of business, in the protection of the factors of human industry and commerce, we want the American flag unsullied and the American name honored throughout the world."—From Mr. Hughes' speech at Chicago.

Said farm is located in the best part of Mason County, and is in a fine state of cultivation. It is well watered, has on it one and one-half story brick dwelling house, containing six rooms and kitchen, one tenant house, stable, carriage house, silo, and two large tobacco barns, one of which is also a stock barn. DESPAIRING WOMAN NOW HAPPY MOTHER

Mrs. Stephens Did Not Need The Surgical Operation.

Patoka, Ill.—"I had been married five years and my greatest desire was to become a mother. The doctor said I never would have a child unless I was operated on for female troubles and I had given up all hopes when a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly for sometime, and I am in better health than ever, and have a healthy baby girl. I praise your Vegetable Compound for my baby and my better health. I want all suffering women to know that it is the sure road to health and happiness."—Mrs. GEORGE STEPHENS, R. F. D. No. 3, Patoka, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence. It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

NEW ORDER OF SERVICE IN THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Upon the vote of the congregation it was decided that the combined services should be given a trial in the Christian Church on Sunday mornings. Many of the larger Christian churches have used the combined services for several summers past. In this new order of service the Communion service which this church observes every Sunday, will be held in the time which was used for the closing exercises of the Bible School. This will be followed by the special singing and the sermon bringing the combined service to a close at eleven o'clock. Because of the fact that most of those who attend the morning church service are regular in their attendance at the Bible School the regular opening exercises of the church service are not needed to bring them to a devotional mind. Those however who attend the church service only will be requested to be at the church by 10:15. There should be no waiting the vestibule but the church should be entered and a seat taken where desired as there will be no dismissal until at the close of the church service at eleven o'clock. Naturally the minister of this church requested the members of the Bible School to be in attendance at this service on time.

ANOTHER OLD SOLDIER DEAD

Mr. John S. Copens died at his home in Vanceburg Tuesday afternoon. The burial was held Wednesday afternoon. He was an old soldier, having enlisted in the Federal Army when but sixteen years of age. He is survived by his wife and five sons. Mr. Copens was well known here.

BIG FROST

Yesterday was the fiftieth anniversary of the big frost that occurred on August 24, 1866. The packets on the Ohio arriving in this port early in the morning had their decks white with the frost. From the way it felt Wednesday night, we were about to have a repetition of the event.
